Saint Andrew

The national flag of Scotland is the Cross of St. Andrew, a white diagonal (X-shaped) cross on a blue background. By having its own patron saint and its own flag, Scotland asserts its pride in its independence from England, an integral and proud part of the United Kingdom. St. Andrew was one of the original Twelve Apostles and a brother of St. Peter, both former fishermen called to follow Christ. He is the patron saint of Greece as well as Scotland. In early Byzantine tradition, he is known as "first called." St. Andrew is reputed to have traveled with St. John the Evangelist to Ephesus and later preached in Scythia. He is said to have been crucified on an X-shaped Cross at Patras in Archaia. His feast day is celebrated on 30th November.

There are two reasons why Andrew was adopted as the patron saint of Scotland. One is that, in AD 345, when the Emperor, Constantine the Great, decided to translate Andrew's bones from Patras to Constantinople, St. Regulus (or St. Rule), a Greek monk, was instructed by an angel to take a large number of these relics to a place in the far northwest. He was told to stop at a site on the Fife coast of Scotland, where he founded the settlement of St. Andrew. The other explanation is that the seventh century Bishop of Hexham, St. Wilfrid (some sources give Acca as the bishop), brought back some of the saint's relics from a trip to Rome, and that they landed in the hands of the Scots King, Angus MacFergus, who installed them at St. Andrew's to enhance the prestige of the new bishopric.

One legend concerning St. Andrew is that when the Pictish King Angus, faced with a large invading army, prayed for divine guidance, a saltire (the diagonal cross) appeared in the shape of a white cloud against the blue sky. Angus won a decisive victory and decreed that Andrew would be the patron saint of his country. It was not until after Robert Bruce's victory at the Battle of Bannockburn (1314), however, that the Declaration of Arbroath named St. Andrew the patron saint of Scotland forever and the Saltire became the national flag in 1385.

The St. Andrew's Society Invites You...

...to learn more about your Scottish heritage. St. Andrew's Society is a cultural, educational, and benevolent organization whose objectives are to study and perpetuate Scottish traditions and culture, including history, heraldry, pageantry, music, literature, language, crafts, and all the arts of Scotland. Social gatherings are held every four to six weeks to promote fellowship within the Scottish community. For more information, contact Kevin Burke at info@jaxstandrews.org or visit our website at www.jaxstandrews.org. The Scottish American Military Society Post 131 is under the direction of Colour Sergeant Jeffrey D. Fazan. Jeff can be reached at colour-sergeant@comcast.net.

The Jacksonville Pipes and Drums invites persons who are interested in information pertaining to membership in the band or scheduling appearances by the band to contact Jim Sloan, Pipe Major at (904) 655-9339, pipemajor@jaxpipes.com or visit our website at www.jaxpipes.com.

Preces and Responses	Keith Spence, lay cantor	Martin Neary
-----------------------------	--------------------------	--------------

O Lord, open thou our lips.
And our mouth shall shew forth thy praise.
O God, make speed to save us.
O Lord, make haste to help us.
Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;
As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be:
world without end. Amen.
Praise ye the Lord.
The Lord’s name be praised.

The People are seated.

The First Lesson	Deuteronomy 30:11-14	Kevin Burke, St. Andrew’s Society
-------------------------	----------------------	-----------------------------------

Lector: A Reading from the Book of Deuteronomy.
Moses said to all the people of Israel, “Surely, this commandment that I am commanding you today is not too hard for you, nor is it too far away. It is not in heaven, that you should say, ‘Who will go up to heaven for us, and get it for us so that we may hear it and observe it?’ Neither is it beyond the sea, that you should say, ‘Who will cross to the other side of the sea for us, and get it for us so that we may hear it and observe it?’ No, the word is very near to you; it is in your mouth and in your heart for you to observe.”

Lector: The Word of the Lord.
People: Thanks be to God.

The Magnificat	Gloucester Service	Herbert Howells
-----------------------	--------------------	-----------------

My soul doth magnify the Lord, *
and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Savior.
For he hath regarded *
the lowliness of his handmaiden.
For behold from henceforth *
all generations shall call me blessed.
For he that is mighty hath magnified me, *
and holy is his Name.
And his mercy is on them that fear him *
throughout all generations.
He hath showed strength with his arm; *
he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.
He hath put down the mighty from their seat, *
and hath exalted the humble and meek.

He hath filled the hungry with good things, *
and the rich he hath sent empty away.
He remembering his mercy hath holpen his servant Israel, *
as he promised to our forefathers,
Abraham and his seed for ever.
Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost: *
as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

The People remain seated.

The Second Lesson	Matthew 4:18-22	Karen Jessee, St. Andrew’s Society
--------------------------	-----------------	------------------------------------

Lector: A Reading from the Book of Matthew.
As Jesus walked by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen. And he said to them, “Follow me, and I will make you fish for people.” Immediately they left their nets and followed him. As he went from there, he saw two other brothers, James son of Zebedee and his brother John, in the boat with their father Zebedee, mending their nets, and he called them. Immediately they left the boat and their father, and followed him.

Lector: The Word of the Lord.
People: Thanks be to God.

The Nunc Dimittis	Gloucester Service	Herbert Howells
--------------------------	--------------------	-----------------

Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, *
according to thy word;
For mine eyes have seen thy salvation, *
which thou hast prepared before the face of all people,
To be a light to lighten the Gentiles, *
and to be the glory of thy people Israel.
Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost: *
as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

The Apostles’ Creed (monotoned by Choir and Congregation)

I believe in God, The Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth: And in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord, Who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, Born of the Virgin Mary, Suffered under Pontius Pilate, Was crucified, dead, and buried, He descended into hell; The third day he rose again from the dead, He ascended into heaven, And sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty; From thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Ghost; the Holy Catholic Church; and Communion of Saints; the Forgiveness of sins; the Resurrection of the body; And the life everlasting. Amen.

The Suffrages and Responses	Martin Neary
------------------------------------	--------------

The Lord be with you. And with thy spirit. Let us pray. Lord, have mercy upon us. Christ, have mercy upon us. Lord, have mercy upon us.

The Lord’s Prayer (monotoned by choir and congregation)

Our Father, which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy Name; Thy kingdom come; Thy will be done; In earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, As we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; But deliver us from evil. Amen.

The Choir continues the Suffrages and Responses with

O Lord, show thy mercy upon us.
And grant us thy salvation.
O Lord, save the Queen;
And mercifully hear us when we call upon thee.
Endue thy ministers with righteousness,
And make thy chosen people joyful.
O Lord, save thy people.
And bless thine inheritance.
Give peace in our time, O Lord.
Because there is none other that fighteth for us,
but only thou, O God.

O God, make clean our hearts within us.
And take not thy Holy Spirit from us.

Anthem, At the Offering	Blest Pair of Sirens	C. Hubert H. Parry
--------------------------------	----------------------	--------------------

Blest pair of Sirens, pledges of Heaven's joy, sphere-born harmonious sisters, Voice and Verse, wed your divine sounds, and mix'd power employ dead things with inbreathed sense able to pierce; and to our high-raised fantasy present that undisturbed song of pure concent, aye sung before the sapphire-coloured throne to Him that sits thereon, with saintly shout and solemn jubilee; where the bright Seraphim, in burning row, their loud uplifted angel trumpets blow; and the Cherubic host, in thousand quires, touch their immortal harps of golden wires, with those just Spirits that wear victorious palms, hymns devout and holy psalms singing everlastingly: that we on earth, with undiscording voice, may rightly answer that melodious noise; as once we did, till disproportion'd sin jarr'd against nature's chime and with harsh din broke the fair musick that all creatures made to their great Lord, whose love their motion sway'd in perfect diapason, whilst they stood in first obedience and their state of good. O may we soon again renew that song, and keep in tune with heaven, till God ere long to His celestial concert us unite, to live with Him, and sing in endless morn of light!
-John Milton

Scotland the Brave

HARK when the light is falling, Hear, hear the pipes are calling, loudly and proudly calling, down thro’ the glen. There where the hills are sleeping, now feel the blood a-leaping, high as the spirits of old Highland men.

CHORUS: Towering in gallant fame, Scotland my mountain bame, high may your proud standards gloriously wave, Land of my high endeavor, land of the shining river, land of my heart for ever Scotland the brave.

High in the misty Highlands, out by the purple islands, brave are the hearts that beat, beneath the Scottish skies, Wild are the winds to meet you, staunch are the friends that greet you, kind as the love that shines from fair maidens’ eyes. REPEAT CHORUS
